

24 Fleet Street

Lintel of no.24, showing inscription "J HYSLOP".

← 24 & 26 Fleet Street

Today no.24 is integrated with no.26. Owners and occupiers of No.24 Fleet Street do not seem to appear in the 1960-61 Valuation Roll, and the inference is that the 2 addresses have been under single ownership / occupancy since the 1950s.

It is most likely that, from about 1890, the ground floor of no.24 was used as a shop run by John Hyslop, whilst the upstairs was separately rented as domestic accommodation. We don't know for how long this shop was active, but after John Hyslop left the shop, no.24 was probably integrated with no.26, and all subsequent entries refer to a single property known as 26 Fleet Street.

John Hyslop and his family probably lived on the other side of Fleet Street for as long as he kept the grocer's shop.

1900-01 Anwoth Valuation Roll : John Hyslop, grocer, owned and occupied a house in Fleet Street. But that was not 24 Fleet Street

1912-13 Anwoth Valuation Roll : John Hyslop, grocer, occupied a house, shop & stable in Fleet Street that was seemingly owned by William McConnel, solicitor, Gatehouse.

1921-22 Anwoth Valuation Roll : No obvious sign of Hyslop as proprietor or tenant of property in Fleet Street.

1940-41 Anwoth Valuation Roll : William McConnel, solicitor, Gatehouse, owns an unidentified house and shop in Fleet Street. The house is occupied by Janet Caig, spinster. The shop is empty.

1950-51 Anwoth Valuation Roll : No sign of William McConnel, solicitor, Gatehouse, owning a property in Fleet Street, nor of Janet Caig being a tenant. The implication is that ownership of no.24 has now been incorporated into no.26.
