Birth of Alexander Nicol (snr)

Alexander was 79 in the 1841 census and died aged 87 in 1849. We therefore expect his birth c.1761/2. His marriage in Oyne suggests that he came from Chapel (but the record does not actually provide his first name) The marriage was in 1805, so he would have been about 43.

We do not really know where Alexander came from or whether he was previously married.

Alexander's marriage entry on the IGI, which is a late submission by a member of the LDS church, refers to his mother as Jean Beal. There is no mention of a Jean Beal in the IGI throughout Scotland for 20 years either side of 1805, and the most likely presumption is that it was a mis-print for Jean Steal, as in the following entry.

But his age does not tie with his age in 1841 or when he died.

The next entry satisfies the birth in Chapel at near enough the right time, but this is also a late entry in the IGI and is probably associated with his marriage to Jean Tough. Since we know that our Alexander married Jean Noble, this cannot be the correct christening entry.

Birth: About 1763 Of Garioch, , Aberdeen, Scotland

Not possible as this Alexander married Jean Tough and they had children concurrently with Alexander Nicol & Jean Noble.

The following entry occurs at the right time, and Inverurie is an adjoining parish to Chapel.

The entry in the Inverurie OPR states the following :

"May 17, 1761 Alex^r Nicol in Middleton had son begot on fornication with Jean Crombie baptised named Alexander before witnesses John & James Nicol in Middleton"

The following entry, again a late entry, would appear to have used the above OPR record as its source, since the date and all names are correct. But if Alexander and Jean were not married, the child's surname would have been Crombie.

N.B. the following entry in the Inverurie OPR is for a child of John Nicol of Middleton where the witnesses are William Nicol of Netheron and Alexander Nicol of Middleton. If this third IGI possibility is the correct Alexander Nicol birth, then his father was also Alexander and he was closely related to John, James & William (maybe all brothers ?).
