We know about James HUNTER from the 1851 Dalry Census, when he was living with his parents at Halfmark.

This James HUNTER and family is the only James who was born in Dalry, c.1798 per the 1881 census. We searched for the marriage of a James HUNTER to a Mary in both Kirkcudbrightshire and Dumfriesshire. There were 2 such marriages, but the marriage to Mary FORSYTH is the only one to fit with the 1881 census.

There is no record of James HUNTER's birth (The Dalry OPR was missing for many years)

Mary's birth, and James and Mary's marriage, plus the births of their children are from the Internet IGI. In the 1881 Kirkpatrick Durham Census, James an Ag. Labourer (58, born Dalry) with wife Mary (48, born Sanquhar) and children William (20), Samuel (16) Alexander Good (13). (They were all agricultural labourers) + Thomas (11), Robert (9), and Ivie (6). All children born in Dalry except Robert who was born in Kells. Also with them was a boarder, Alexander GOOD, age d 35 (born in Dalry), an unmarried labourer. In the Internet IGI, we found that Mary FORSYTH's father was James and her mother Nicholas PATERSON. Mary is their only recorded child. After Nicholas PATERSON remarried, she and William GOOD had 7 children in Dalry Jean (1840), Ivie (1842), Grace (1844), Agnes (1847), Alexander (1848), James (1849), William (1851). including the Alexander who was living with James and Mary HUNTER in 1881. (So he is Mary's step brother.)

We have census records from 1861 to 1881 where James & Mary are living in Dalry with various of their children. We have a copy of Mary's death record.
