James HUNTER & Elizabeth NICOL are paternal grandparents of Margaret WRIGHT (née HUNTER).
 We have transcribed copies of the birth, marriage and death certificates for James and Elizabeth ex New Register House in Edinburgh. David McMillan, James’ cousin, was best man at their wedding and the reception was held at The Douglas Arms, Castle Douglas.
 We have original birth, marriage and death certificates for Arthur Hunter. We have a newspaper cutting announcing Freda’s birth : she was named after James’s brother Frederick. We have transcribed copies of birth certificates for Freda & Nan. Nan was named after Anne Eliza Murray -Stewart, the wife of the Laird at Cally where James & Elizabeth worked. The Hunter family bible gives death dates for James, Elizabeth, Freda and Nan.
 In 1899, and at the age of 31, James left Drumburn to take up the post as Clerk of Works on the Cally Estate, with accommodation being provided by his employer at the Sawmill House in Gatehouse. At roughly the same time Elizabeth moved to Gatehouse from Aberdeenshire to nurse Horatio Granville Murray -Stewart, the ageing Laird of Cally. James was a freemason and an elder at Girthon Parish Church. In 1925 he built Drumaber, a bungalow in Garden St, Gatehouse. In 1929 James & Arthur started their own business as J&A Hunter, joiners and undertakers, based at 6 Catherine St., Gatehouse. Elizabeth was district nurse in Gatehouse for many years.
 Freda was a schoolteacher and during her later years taught in Kettering. Nan, a children’s nanny, was cycling with her charges when she was killed in a road accident near Watford. James, Elizabeth and Nan are all buried at Anwoth churchyard, Gatehouse. Freda died in Kettering. Nan’s death certificate no. (Oct- Dec 1942 3a 1230 Watford)
 Before marriage, Jim lived at Drumburn and was an NCO with the Galloway Rifles (source David MacMillan). He also had a hobby of keeping and showing poultry. During WW1 Jim served at the 2 prisoner of war camps on the Isle of Man.

Nurse Elizabeth Hunter

District Nurse & Midwife in Gatehouse of Fleet.

by Margaret Wright (née Hunter)

My grandmother, Elizabeth Duguid Nicol, was born at Capperbrook Farm, Chapel of Garioch, Aberdeenshire in 1875. Her father, John Nicol, was a farmer, her mother was Mary Leslie Nicol. Elizabeth was the third child in a family of nine.

I do not know where Elizabeth trained to be a nurse but it was probably in Aberdeen. Three of her sisters (Jean, Isabella and Mary) also trained as nurses. Two of her brothers were policemen. It has been suggested that these two occupations were considered 'safe' ways to send youngsters to a big city, since housing and other support was given to people in these professions.

I do not know whether there was a specific invitation, but in the late 1890's Elizabeth moved from Aberdeenshire to Gatehouse of Fleet in Kirkcudbrightshire where she was employed as a nurse at Cally House. The then laird of the Cally Estate, ageing Horatio Granville Murray Stewart, needed to be nursed. He died in 1904. In the 1901 census she was a lodger in a house in Castle Douglas, 15 miles from Gatehouse, and was listed as a sick nurse.

In 1904 Elizabeth married James Hunter, the clerk of works on the Cally Estate, and moved to the Cally Saw Mill in Ann Street, Gatehouse. Between 1906 and 1910 she and James had 3 children.

A young Nurse Nicol

In 1913 Elizabeth's son Arthur developed a life threatening ear condition. An emergency mastoid operation was carried out on the kitchen table at the Saw Mill House by the local doctor Alexander Dott, and Elizabeth assisted him.

She had started nursing again officially by the 1920's when she was appointed the first nurse of the Gatehouse Nursing Association and was a popular local figure. A number of people who are now in their 80's and 90's have proudly say that they are 'Nurse Hunter babies'.

They include Bobby Carson who was born on 22nd June 1925 at Conchieton Farm, Twynholm. Nurse Hunter also delivered Bobby's siblings John, Willie and Betty. When Betty was born, young Bobby was annoyed by all the fuss about his new sister so he went to the hen-house and smashed a load of freshly laid eggs. Nurse Hunter was not amused and gave him castor oil as punishment. Bobby says this punishment did not work - he likes castor oil !

Elizabeth later worked with another local doctor, Dr. Alexander Craig. In 1926 twin boys were born in Gatehouse and they were named Nichol Hunter Shaw (known as Hunter) and Alexander Craig Shaw (know as Craig) in gratitude to the help given by the doctor and nurse. Sadly Hunter died as a youngster but Craig Shaw lived in Gatehouse until he was 70.

Elizabeth Hunter c.1935 (age 60)

Even after she retired, she would treat minor wounds at her home. One day some local lads decided to make a 'bomb' which of course caused some minor injuries when it exploded. The boys chose to go and see Nurse Hunter to be patched up rather than go home to their parents.

Mrs JAMES HUNTER, GATEHOUSE.
 Mrs James Hunter, Drumaber, Gatehouse, passed away last week after a lingering illness. As Nurse Nicol, she came to Gatehouse over 40 years ago, and after her marriage to the late Mr James Hunter, joiner, she continued to give her services to those who had need of her. About 20 years ago, when Gatehouse Nursing Association was formed, Mrs Hunter was appointed their first nurse, discharging her duties untiringly for a number of years, and leaving behind her a memory which will long linger in many homes of the district. An enthusiastic member of Girthon Parish Church and Woman's Guild, Mrs Hunter, in her leisure hours, enjoyed a game of bowls. She was always ready to help in any good cause, was bright and cheery, and a good neighbour and friend. She is survived by a son and a daughter. The funeral took place to Anwoth Cemetery, and among many floral tributes was one from Gatehouse Nursing Association.

Elizabeth died in Gatehouse in 1944, 7 years after her husband. This obituary was published in the local paper (Galloway News).

PRESENTATION TO MRS HUNTER, GATEHOUSE.

A few ladies representing subscribers assembled at Anwoth Manse, Gatehouse, on Saturday afternoon to meet Mrs Hunter, Cally Sawmill. For some time Gatehouse has had no resident doctor, and even previous to that time Mrs Hunter, who was a trained nurse, always willingly gave her skill and able assistance when called upon until a doctor arrived from Kirkcudbright. It was thought fitting at this time to acknowledge her services. Accordingly, Mrs Malcolm Cross, Cally, on behalf of the ladies, handed to Mrs Hunter a well-filled Treasury note case, accompanied with grateful expressions from the community for her many kindnesses to the sick. Mrs Hunter thanked the ladies present and all the subscribers for the unexpected and handsome way in which they had recognised her services, which she had been pleased to render to rich or poor when asked. After the presentation, Mrs Saunders hospitably entertained the company.

Dr Alexander Dott died unexpectedly in October 1916 leaving Gatehouse without a local doctor, the nearest being in Kirkcudbright 9 miles away. A situation that continued until after the end of World War I. Elizabeth stepped in to help out whenever she could. To show their appreciation, Elizabeth was given a presentation, as reported in the Dumfries & Galloway Standard 23rd Dec, 1916.

. Nurse Hunter understood the strain on young mothers with large families. In 1930 after the birth of Hamish MacInnes, she realized that his mother Catherine was a long way from home (she was from the Isle of Skye) and had 4 other young children to cope with. Looking at the 3 MacInnes girls, she chose Chrissie, aged 7, to accompany her on her rounds. Chrissie was delighted and for many years dreamed of becoming a 'Nurse Hunter'. Chrissie is seen here, dressed as a Nurse Hunter, in the local gala.
